As an award-winning artist, my work explores the intersection of nature, spirituality, and the healing power of creativity. Through vibrant acrylic paintings, hand-painted glassware, pottery, and digital illustrations, I invite reflection and meaningful connection. My digital illustration Sunrise Rose earned a ribbon and cash award from the Federal Way Art Commission in Washington State. My digital illustration Floating Dandelions was selected for a Pierce County of Washington State public traffic wrap, bringing art into the heart of the community. I was also honored with a plaque recognizing me as one of The Chicago Weekly's “10 Visionary Artists Who Push Boundaries and Inspire.”

At the core of my creative practice is the Heart of Colors Project, a deeply personal journey that speaks to my belief in art as a catalyst for healing, mindfulness, and emotional connection. With an intuitive approach to color and energy, I create art that uplifts the spirit and offers moments of sanctuary and beauty. My passion is to share this vision—one piece at a time—inspiring joy, calm, and a sense of belonging wherever my art lives.
